

BA (Ordinary) in Applied Social Studies (Disability) Transcript

With registration becoming a reality for the social care profession, the need for a level 7 degree is now paramount.

The Open Training College's BA Ordinary degree in Applied Social studies in disability is accessible and flexible to fit your busy lifestyle. You can study while you work fulltime through our Supported Open Learning Model that provides you with the flexibility to study when you want but remain supported through the educational process.

The modules delivered include:

- Focus on the Individual
- Health, Safety and personal care
- Skills for Working Effectively with People
- Service Quality
- States of Being
- and Individual Development and Sexuality

The degree also provides excellence through the delivery of best practice ideas, which not only develops you as a professional, but enhances the service you provide within your organisation.